

He Was Here

Only Small Chapel And
Staircase Mark Spot
Where John The Baptist Baptized
Christ

Editor's Note:—By American definition, the River Jordan is no river at all — in most parts of this country it would be called a creek. Yet in the Jordan's muddy water occurred one of the major events in Christ's life. His baptism by John. Here's a report on how the baptismal site looks today.

By WILTON WYNN
JERICHO, Jordan — Water is exported to the ends of the earth from a muddy creek near here where John baptized Christ. Vendors display small flasks of the water for sale to visitors on the banks of the stream. Regularly huge shipments for use in baptisms go by air and sea to the United States, Europe, and the Far East.

The water comes from the point on the Jordan River known as the site of the sacred baptism — which occurred at the start of Christ's three years of public life and teaching.

The site is close to the lowest place on the face of the earth. Within sight is the Dead Sea, 1,000 feet below sea level.

Jesus Arrived From North
Jesus probably came to this spot through the Jordan Valley from Galilee in the north. The modern traveler visits the area from Jerusalem. This means he drives in half an hour from Jerusalem's elevation 4,000 feet above sea level to the Jordan at 1,000 feet below.

The road branches off after leaving Jericho and takes the traveler across a flat desert plain, ending at the banks of the Jordan. In winter this low area is comfortably warm; in summer it is suffocatingly hot.

The baptismal site is away from villages or other normal human habitation. Nearby is the Convent of St. John the Baptist, first built 1,500 years ago. On the bank of the river stands a Franciscan chapel and a small altar. A stone staircase leads to the water, and nearby two or three vendors sit quietly beside their flasks of water waiting for visiting pilgrims.

Where John Preached
Surrounding this point is the "wilderness" where John the Baptist did most of his preaching. The Biblical term "wilderness" must have referred to desert, unless the Jordan Valley has changed drastically since Biblical times. The Jordan plain is green only in the few places where irrigation has permitted cultivation, or where parched earth. Apart from these verdant spots, the valley is the domain of jackals, hyenas, and wild pigs roaming over rocky soil among desert shrubs. Rising on either side of the Jordan plain are the semi-desert hills of Judea to the west and Moab to the east. Although the Jordan is one of the world's most famous rivers, its small size is a disappointment to most visitors. A stream so narrow in America would be called a creek.

Christ's Baptism
Every Jan. 6 the anniversary of Christ's baptism is observed in a special service on the water. Bearded priests in their vestments stand in a flat-bottomed boat to say mass over the exact spot.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

6 INDICTMENTS BY GRAND JURY; 3 CASES IGNORED

The April Grand Jury Monday afternoon returned six indictments and threw out three cases to complete its work. The jury had returned true bills against five other defendants during the morning.

Because the jury did not complete its work until 5:15 o'clock Monday afternoon, it was not asked to make the customary survey of the county-owned properties.

A charge of aggravated assault and battery brought by Kenneth J. Orndorff, Gettysburg R. 5, against Fred Swisher, Gettysburg R. 1, Cumberland Twp. constable, was dropped by the jury which found "not a true bill" in that case. An assault and battery charge brought by Orndorff against Constable Swisher was found to be "a true bill" and the indictment was presented to the court in that case.

Orndorff Indicted
True bills were found on both charges brought by Constable Swisher against Orndorff, of assault and battery and resisting arrest. All four charges grew out of an incident at recent public dance at the Barlow Fire Hall.

True bills were found on two charges of burglary against James Nevin Keller, Gettysburg R. 3.

A true bill was found on both counts of larceny charge against Charles E. Eisenhardt Jr., address unknown. Eisenhardt is accused of stealing $14.55 in cash and $34.08 in goods from Leo Storm's Cash Market, Bonneauville, on June 3.

Assault Cases Dropped
"Not a true bill" was found by the jury in charges of assault and battery against Orndorff and Swisher.

Undergoes Surgery
For Affected Leg
Thomas R. Roth, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Henry Roth, 43 South St., was reported satisfactory today at the Elizabethtown Children's Hospital following surgery to his left leg.

The child, who suffered infantile paralysis four years ago, is undergoing a series of operations to build up the leg most affected by the disease. The first operation involved the moving of an abdominal muscle to his hip area. Later operations will transfer a tendon and change part of the bone structure in his foot.

Couple Licensed
A marriage license was issued at the courthouse today to Alfred Lawrence Brady and Loretta Theresa Rang, both of Hanover.

Norway Defies Russia And Refuses To Abandon NATO

OSLO (AP)—Norway has told the Soviet Union that membership in NATO is a vital part of Norwegian policy for obtaining peace and security and it has no intention of quitting the Western defense alliance.

Moscow was given that word in reply to its threat that establishment of NATO guided missile and atomic weapon bases in Norway would bring atomic destruction in the event of war. The 2,100-word message from Premier Einar Gerhardsen was delivered in Moscow Saturday and made public here last night.

Gerhardsen did not mention the possibility of NATO's equipping

Candidates will be introduced. Men and women are invited to attend the session.

COOPERATIVES' GROWTH CITED TO ROTARY CLUB

The growth of cooperatives in the United States was outlined Monday evening at the meeting of the local Rotary Club at the YWCA by Paul E. Zeger, treasurer of the Knouse Foods Cooperative.

Zeger, who is also vice chairman of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives Committee on Business Administration and a member of the national advisory council of the Federal Farm Credit Board, was budget director for the Mutual Broadcasting System and for Standard Brands before becoming affiliated with the Knouse Foods Cooperative seven years ago.

"Following the end of World War I the farmer again had a lowering of his economic status due to many factors, one of them overproduction," Zeger said. "It was at this time that the major movement for incorporation under a cooperative system was introduced at the state level."

Get Boost In 1922
"In 1922 the Capper-Volstead Act was passed by Congress recognizing the right of cooperatives to carry on business in the United States without being subject to anti-trust laws then on the books."

The major movement to assist cooperatives occurred through passage of the Federal Farm Credit Act of 1933. This act provided for the establishment of a revolving fund of $500,000,000 to be made available to farmers to assist them in financing their farm activities.

"Of the amount $110,000,000 was assigned to a central bank and 12 district banks for cooperatives. In 1955 a law was passed to permit government withdrawal from the banks for cooperatives. In 20 years all of the money lent by the Federal government to the cooperative banks will have been paid back, with interest."

"Many times it is heard that cooperatives do not pay their fair share of taxes and are exempt from federal income taxes. The cooperatives pay all taxes that are paid by any other corporation, with the one exception of federal income taxes. There the cooperatives, since they are in effect a partnership of many people, are considered partnerships and thus income tax is paid by the partners, the members, on what they earn from the operation."

Plans Regular Visits To District

Congressman S. Walter Stauffer, of the Adams-York-Cumberland District, and his secretary, Mrs. Mary W. Bushman, will be at the Hotel Gettysburg Thursday, April 25, where they will meet anyone concerned with matters in this district.

Thereafter Mrs. Bushman will be at the Hotel Gettysburg the second and fourth Thursdays of each month to confer with those having business with the Congressman.

Mennonite Hour On Air 8 A.M. Sunday

"He Is Risen," a special Easter program, will be heard on The Mennonite Hour broadcast Sunday over WGB Chambersburg at 8 a.m. "Jesus Christ Is Risen Today" and "He Lives" are two of the Easter songs to be sung by a Mennonite chorus under the direction of J. Mark Stauffer. Other choral groups participating include the ladies sextet and the male quartet, directed by Earl Maust. This Easter meditation combines both song and narration in portraying the events of Christ's last days on earth.

Call Meeting To Form New Cub Pack

The second of a series of three adult training meetings preceding formation of a Cub Scout Pack in Hunterstown will be held Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in the Great Conewago Presbyterian Chapel.

William Kerschner, chairman of the organization and extension committee of the Black Walnut Boy Scout District, will speak. All parents of boys of Cub Scout age are asked to attend the meeting. The pack is being sponsored by the Hunterstown Ruritan Club.

Services Are Held For Mrs. Redding

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth (Riley) Redding, 81, formerly of Gettysburg who died Saturday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Lucy R. Hiemenz, in Lancaster, were held this morning with a meeting at 8:15 o'clock at the Bender Funeral Home. There was a requiem mass in St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church at 9 o'clock with the Rev. Fr. Anthony Kane officiating.

Interment was made in the church cemetery. The pallbearers were William F. Baumber, Harry J. Hohn, W. Roger Simpson, James Eckenroth, Cyril Faust and Eugene Redding.

Mrs. Redding was the wife of Nicholas Redding, Lancaster.

WILL PRESENT EASTER MUSIC AT HIGH SCHOOL

On Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Gettysburg High School auditorium, the Gettysburg High School Senior Choir and the Ninth Grade Glee Club under the direction of Paul W. Grove will present the annual Easter program of choral music.

The program will be presented before a combined assembly of Junior and Senior High School students with parents invited to attend.

The program will open with the singing of "Christ, the Lord, Is Risen Today" by both choirs after which the Ninth Grade Glee Club will sing three numbers, "King of Kings" by Simper; "He Shall Feed His Flock" and "Christ Is Risen," both from "The Messiah" by Handel. Junior High soloists will be Paul Deitz, Donna Hetrick and Doris Hamme.

To Narrate Easter Story
Then with the Rev. Robert Knechel, pastor of the Gettysburg Church of the Brethren, narrating, the Senior Choir will present the Easter story. The curtain will open showing a cross on a hill and the choir will sing the spiritual, "Were You There?" Other narration and additional Easter music will follow.

Anne Eckert, soprano soloist, will sing "The Holy City" and then these other choral selections will be presented: "God So Loved the World," "The Lord's Prayer," "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" and "Beautiful Saviour."

The settings and cast for the Easter story are under the direction of Miss Ruth McIlhenny of the faculty. Accompanists will be Ruth Anne Knechel, Anne Jordan and Jon Wagnild.

At the close of the program the schools will close for the Easter holiday.

Local Lions Give $30 To Cancer Crusade

The Gettysburg Lions Club has sent $30 to the Cancer Crusade in Adams County, it was announced Monday evening at the weekly dinner meeting of the club at the Shetter House. President Eugene R. Hartman presided with 83 members and guests in attendance.

There were reports on preparations and the progress of ticket sales for the club's charity fund benefit show to be held May 6 and 7 in the high school auditorium. Rehearsals will begin next week.

The program Monday evening was presented by E. W. Mange, Hanover, district sales representative for the Metropolitan Edison Company, who spoke briefly on the development of uses and applications for electric power and then showed a color film "The Eager Mind" depicting electricity as the "most useful and versatile of all fuels" and suggesting the application of solar and atomic energy to generate electrical power in the future.

CHAMBER SEEKS SUGGESTIONS TO BEAUTIFY AREA

Further plans for improving the appearance of Lincoln Square were discussed Monday evening at a meeting of the board of directors of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce in the Chamber office in the Plaza building. No action was taken by the board pending a report next month by a committee headed by Walter B. Lane which was asked to secure suggestions from other groups.

Monday night suggestions included planting additional flowers in the center plot, a lighted fountain and installation of flag poles at each quadrant of the square to fly several flags.

The chamber voted its thanks to Biesecker Brothers, McDermitt Brothers and the Gettysburg Construction Co. for donations of part or all of their share in connection with the installation of the crab apple trees and boxes in Lincoln Square.

An offer of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to paint the boxes was accepted.

Lane, as chairman of the Industrial committee, reported completion of a four-page brochure of the communities' facilities which will be sent to various prospective industries to interest them in locating here. Maps of six potential industrial sites are still in process of completion, Lane said. The sites were selected by industrial engineers of the Western Maryland Railroad who volunteered their aid.

Julian Estep reported on the formation of an industrial development by the Cumberland, Md., Chamber of Commerce.

A letter from the Woman's Club of Gettysburg approving the stand of the Chamber of Commerce in asking persons and businesses who remodel the fronts of their homes or businesses to follow colonial or Civil War style was read.

Cards from 99 other tourist centers, in various stores.

In the last two weeks, Mrs. Helen Snyder, Chamber secretary, said, more than 500 inquiries have been received by the local Chamber from the new tourist center project.

She added that 5,000 folders have been sent out so far this year in response to requests for Gettysburg information.

An advertisement costing $87.50 was voted for insertion in a 50,000-copy Virginia Guide book to be published next fall on the Civil War.

The directors approved Wilbur Plank's plan to erect 18 "Off Street Parking Signs."

The Chamber has a membership of 99.

LANDS IN JAIL AFTER CHASE BY POLICE, CRASH

An 80 to 85-mile-an-hour chase by borough police, starting on Fourth St. and ending on the Harrisburg Rd., led to the crash of an auto, injury to three and incarceration of the driver, John E. Orner, 21, Gettysburg R. 5, at 2:30 o'clock this morning.

The incident began at 1:30 o'clock this morning when Borough Officers Clarence H. Cluck and Luther Stevens, on the midnight to 8 a.m. shift, checked a 1940 auto on Carlisle St. and found the driver, Orner, had no operator's license.

He told police he had had a learner's permit but had failed to pass the examination. The permit had expired March 7.

Crashed Near Museum
The officers told Orner to leave his car at Swope's Atlantic Station, where they had accosted him, and find someone else to drive him home.

At about 2:15 o'clock the officers, cruising through the town, found Orner driving his car on Fourth St. A chase began during which speeds of 80 to 85 miles per hour were attained, the officers said.

As the Orner car approached the Horse 'N' Bugsy Museum, north of here on the Harrisburg Rd., the vehicle ran off the right side of the road, then swerved across the road, crossed a small ditch, ran up a slight embankment, knocked down a wagon wheel, leaped several feet into the air, landed on its wheels, knocked down an eight-foot section of fence and finally came to rest, headed south, in the field of the Conte Brothers' museum.

Damage to the car was estimated at $350, its value, and damage to the museum property was estimated at $100.

The three occupants of the car were treated at the Warner Hospital for minor injuries. Orner received treatment for a lacerated left eyelid and bruise of the nose; Miss Dorothy Bowling, 17, Biglerville R. 1, small abrasion of the left knee, and Felix Smith, 28, 31 E. Middle St., abrasions of both knees and injuries to the fourth and fifth toes of his left foot.

25 Days In Jail
Brought before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, Orner was charged with driving without a driver's license at 1:30 o'clock; driving without a driver's license at 2:30; reckless driving; failing to stop at a stop sign and failing to stop at the signal of an officer.

When Orner pleaded guilty, Snyder fined him $25 for the first no driver's license charge, $50 for the second, $25 for the reckless driving, $5 for failing to stop at the stop sign and $10 for failing to stop at the officer's signal.

When Orner could not pay the $115 in fines, much less the costs, he was sentenced to 25 days in jail in default of paying the fines.

PAY $45,000 CRASH CLAIMS

Civil suits for damages in the Jan. 22 deaths of three Pen Mar area women were settled in court at Harrisburg for a total of $45,000.

The women died after a car in which they were riding collided with a tractor-trailer owned by H. E. Brinkerhoff & Sons Transportation Co., Harrisburg and Gettysburg. The tractor, it was charged, veered into the wrong lane of traffic in front of the car.

The settlement included: Estate of Anna F. Watson $20,000; estate of Grace Hamilton Ott $7,500, and estate of Daisy Belle Debrick $18,000.

The women were enroute to a food processing plant at Orttanna where they worked when the accident occurred two miles east of Blue Ridge Summit. Ronald Barry Hewitt, 22,

CWV LADIES MEET MONDAY

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Catholic War Veterans Post 1342 made plans for a number of activities at a meeting Monday evening at the CWV Home at Bonneauville.

Prizes will be presented by the auxiliary at the annual Easter egg hunt for children of members of the CWV at the post home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A prize will be offered by the auxiliary to the student of St. Joseph's Catholic School, Bonneauville, achieving the highest average in spelling.

A youth dance for children aged 13, or in the eighth grade, "on up" will be held at the post home May 3, named as the committee for the dance were Kathryn Smith, Louise Weishaar, Theresa Lemmon, Betty Claiborn and Ann Noel.

The auxiliary voted to again conduct a concession stand at the home games of the Bonneauville baseball team this year, with two members in charge each time.

Plans were made for a membership corn party at the next meeting May 20. The president, Mrs. Teresa Lemmon, presided at the meeting.

Hold Services In Bonneauville

Special Holy Week services to be held at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Bonneauville, were announced today as follows:

Wednesday, evening mass with meditation at 7:30 o'clock followed by confessions.

Thursday, low mass at 8 a.m.; confessions from 10 to 11 a.m., and from 4 to 5 p.m.; high mass at 7:30 p.m. with procession of school children and altar boys; all-night adoration of the Blessed Sacrament by the Holy Name Society.

Friday, private devotions from noon until 3 p.m.; Communion service with Adoration of The Cross at 3 p.m.

Saturday, confessions from 10 to 11 a.m. and 3 to 5 p.m.; Easter service starting at 10:30 p.m. with a high mass at midnight.

Sunday, low mass at 7:30 and 10 a.m.

The Rev. Fr. Burkhardt, Washington, D. C., a Marist priest, will conduct all services.

Countians Injured In Sunday Crash

Five persons were injured Sunday in a collision of two automobiles at the intersection of the Pine Road and Route 233 a mile west of Hunteale.

State Police reported the cars were operated by Daniel L. Danner, 18, Carlisle, and Mrs. Meda J. Galloway, 37, Gardners R. 2.

Treated at Carlisle Hospital were Mrs. Galloway for contusions of the chest, and these passengers in her car, Donnie Galloway, 4, lacerations of the scalp; Howard Galloway, 7, abrasions of the scalp; Daniel Griffey, 83, Gardners R. 2, contusion of the forehead, and Miss Mary Griffey, 50, Gardners R. 2, cerebral concussion. Miss Griffey was admitted to the hospital for observation.

Police said Danner, traveling on the Pine Road, stopped at the stop sign and then pulled into the intersection in front of the Galloway car. Damage to the two cars was moderate.

Bulletins

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate quickly passed and sent back to the House today a money bill carrying 41 million dollars to restore normal postal services.

The Senate took up the measure as soon as it met today and passed it by voice vote without any debate. The Senate Appropriation Committee had approved it unanimously at a 10-minute session shortly before.

LONDON (AP)—Defense Minister Duncan Sandys declared today "the protective power of the free world depends at present almost entirely on the nuclear strength of the United States."

Sandys, son-in-law of Sir Winston Churchill, opened a two-day defense debate in the House of Commons by rejecting Laborite demands that Britain postpone this summer's H-bomb test.

AMMAN (AP)—Bedouin troops and security police held Jordan under tight control today as the moderate new government got down to the hard work of restoring stability to the country.

Its first job, following the hectic six-day Cabinet crisis from which King Hussein emerged with a decisive victory over extremist elements, will be to clear the Communists and their sympathizers out of key posts in the government and the army.

STOCK TRADING SLOW NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was narrowly irregular in slow early trading today.

A number of key stocks showed no change. Among others, the price changes were generally kept within the range of a point.

Lukens Steel, however, continued its rise of yesterday as this widely-moving stock added about 2 today.

COLLISION IN SQUARE

Damage totalled $10 when a car and an auto carrier collided in Lincoln Square Monday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. Borough police said Mrs. J. McClellan, 18, Gettysburg R. 3, was driving her car north on Carlisle St., and entered the square. The auto carrier, driven by O. H. Sutton, Norfolk, Va., sought to go around the McClellan car and the rear of the trailer struck the left rear bumper of the McClellan car, causing $10 damage to it, and none to the trailer.

Investors To Get Additional Money

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Investors in the Fickie Fanny gas well in Clinton County will get $150,000 more out of the proceeds as the result of a court decision handed down yesterday.

The well was developed by John A. McGuire and produced gas that Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. bought for $1,203,993. After the well stopped producing in 1952 stockholders filed suit against McGuire, claiming he wanted to withhold too much from the proceeds for expenses.

Judge Henry Ellenbogen of Allegheny County Common Pleas Court ruled that McGuire could withhold some $200,000 in expenses but said an additional $150,000 claimed for expenses must go to the some 300 stockholders.

In all, they will split some $666,000. Each share of stock, which sold originally for $100, thus is worth about $2.20.

TEL AVIV (AP)—An Israeli army spokesman said today two Jewish watchmen were slain by Jordanians last night near Beit Shean, about 55 miles northeast of Tel Aviv. The biblical town is four miles west of the Jordan River frontier.

ROME (AP)—The Foreign Ministry announced today that Egypt has lifted payment restrictions against Italian ships in the Suez Canal following a protest by Italy's ambassador in Cairo. The ministry said the ambassador protested the restrictions violated an Egyptian-Italian accord by which Suez tolls against Italian ships were applied against Egypt's indebtedness to Italy. The debt now totals about seven million dollars.

FOOD SALE AND MOVIE PLANNED
BY "JAYCEES"

Several future activities were planned at the second April meeting of the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday evening at Schottie's Hotel. It was decided to hold a food sale and the following committee was appointed in charge of arrangements: Thomas E. Craig, Clyde Bucher, Emerson F. Muller and Ralph C. Unger.

A date was set to sponsor a kiddie movie, to take place on Saturday, May 4. The committee in charge of securing the place and making other general arrangements is composed of Ralph C. Unger, Noah V. Brown and Ray T. Harner.

Emerson Muller was named in charge of securing information on having a girls' professional baseball team play an exhibition game here. Muller will report on this project at the next session. The following were appointed delegates to the state Jaycee convention to be held in Scranton on May 3, 4 and 5: Richard D. Thomas, Clyde W. Crouse, John F. Feaser Jr., Marvin F. Breighner, William R. Keefe and Wilmer Dutterer. Amendments to the bylaws were approved by the chapter last evening. Secretary William Keefe reported. New Jaycee Paul Bunty was present, and Richard E. Selby, a member now serving in the Air Force and home on furlough, was in attendance. The session was conducted by the president, Richard Thomas. The Jaycees will meet again on Monday, May 6, at Schottie's.

Interest Grows In Fashion Show

Interest is mounting for the third annual fashion show of the Women's Community Club of Littlestown and vicinity to be staged next Tuesday evening, April 23, at Bankert's Restaurant and recreation center, N. Hanover Shoe Farms
Featured In Post

"Where Horses Live Like Kings" is the title of an interesting article on the Hanover Shoe Farms in this week's issue of The Saturday Evening Post. It was written by Bill Wolf and the color illustrations were made by Post photographer, Gus Pasquarella.

The author states that "in the risky business of horse breeding, few outfits are as successful as Hanover Shoe Farms."

Lawrence B. Sheppard, owner of the farms, is said by Wolf to be "one of the greatest living authorities on standardbred pacers and trotters."

COOPERATIVES'

tion of the cooperatives.

How Tax Is Paid

"There is a double taxation 'in that the income of corporations is taxed and so are the dividends paid to the stockholders. But the government has moved to help equalize that taxation. Those who receive income in the form of dividends from corporations are allowed to take a four per cent discount—to at least partially equal the tax that was imposed on the corporation earnings. Members of cooperatives do not receive that four per cent figure on their income from cooperative dividends, but must pay tax on the entire amount."

"A cooperative way of doing business is an effective way. I firmly believe that if we had all cooperatives or all corporations it would not be too sound for our economy. We need both the cooperatives and the corporations as a check and balance which is beneficial to our private enterprise system."

Zeger told the group in a question period that 13 states, in setting up cooperative laws, made them so stringent that cooperatives outside those states cannot do business within them. As a result Knouse Foods, now selling on a national scale, has had to set up another corporation, chartered in Delaware, to do business within those 13 states.

President John Hostetter presided at the meeting with 60 present. Various committee chairmen reported in connection with the Horse Show to be held in June.

CE LEADERS TO VISIT 'FIELD

Two hundred delegates attending the Leadership Training School of the Middle Atlantic Region of the International Society of Christian Endeavor, to be held April 26 to 28 at the Holiday Motor Motel, will tour the Gettysburg Battlefield April 26, according to the program of events for the school.

B. McClain Cochran, registrar and field secretary of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor Union, said registrars will represent Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Delaware, District of Columbia and Maryland.

In connection with the school, the spring executive committee meeting of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor Union will be held April 27 at 2 p.m. Gordon McMordie, Feasterville, president of the state group, said presidents and secretaries of all county, branch and district unions in Pennsylvania together with the executive and appointed officers comprise the executive committee of the state C. E. Union.

Among the Christian Endeavor leaders scheduled to participate in the leadership school are: Dr. Robert Rash, director of Christian Education of the United Brethren Church; Harold E. Westerhoff, executive secretary, and Miss Phyllis Rike, administrative assistant, International Society of Christian Endeavor headquarters and Charles O. Heyward, field secretary of the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia Christian Endeavor Unions.

Ex-Con Answers
His Own Prayer
Made Years Ago

LAWTON, Okla. (AP) — A classified advertisement in Sunday's Lawton Constitution-Press has behind it the fulfillment of a prayer by Noel Phillips, 23-year-old masonry contractor.

The ad said: "Man or boy 18 to 23 years old. Must have court record. Prefer man who is on parole. Bring paper and apply in person . . ." Phillips said the ad was part of a promise he made at the Englewood, Colo., federal reformatory eight years ago. Kneeling in his cell, he prayed:

"If I get out of here, I promise to help others like myself."

The following day he was paroled.

Hires Only Convicts Phillips, head of a rapidly growing company he started here five years ago, hires only former prison inmates like himself. He estimates he has employed 400 to 500 parolees or former convicts. He has helped many others by finding them jobs.

Phillips, married and the father of two young sons, is an active member of the Westside Baptist Church.

The young contractor said more than a third of his life has been spent in state and federal reformatories.

Plans Boys Town Phillips said he hopes to show prison inmates they can return to "outside" life and become useful citizens. And he has a further dream.

"I'd like to start something like Boys' Town," he said. "The center could be a clearing house for former convicts and parolees needing work. Most men just out of prison are eager to work, to do anything to get back on their feet — but too often they don't get a chance."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paul Bradshaw, former Scranton Pa., Teamsters official, testified today Scranton's Mayor James T. Hanlon asked him to "hold off" disclosures about other union officials until after an election.

Bradshaw gave the testimony to the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee under questioning by Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.). It was not immediately clear what election he referred to, whether the city or some other election.

"Has it been general knowledge in Scranton that the mayor approached you?" Goldwater asked. "No Sir," Bradshaw said.

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — (USDA) — Cattle 450, good and choice stockers and feeders 20.50 to 23.50. Calves 25, good and choice 22.00 to 29.00. Hogs 25, Sheep 50, no market.

CALL MEETINGS ON HEALTH FOR
4-H CLUB UNITS

Plans for three health meetings for Adams County 4-H Club members in May were announced today by Miss Florence Finger, county home economist, and John D. Naugle, assistant county farm agent.

Demonstrations of artificial respiration will be highlights of all three meetings. The first, for clubs in that area, will be held May 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the Two Taverns hall. Mrs. Orville Newman and Mrs. Emory Gitt will be in charge of the program which will include games and songs.

2 Other Sessions

The second session will be held May 7 at 8 p.m. at the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary Parochial School, McSherrystown, for clubs in that area. Mrs. Stephen Krichen will be the chairman assisted by Mrs. Norman Harmon, Mrs. Melvin Nace, Mrs. George Hollinger and Miss Teresa Murren. At this meeting each club will be responsible for a game.

May 10 a health meeting will be held in the Arendtsville Grade School cafeteria at 8 p.m. for the clubs in the upper part of the county. Mrs. James Behney will be the chairman and Mrs. Walter Harold will have charge of songs; Garnet Coble, games, and Mrs. Roy Tate, Mrs. Herbert Zepp and Mrs. Melvin Prosser, refreshments. Each leader will be responsible for cookies for her group and members are asked to bring song books.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower appealed to Congress again today to restore funds cut from the budget of the U. S. Information Agency.

The appeal was reported by Senate Republican Leader Knowledge of California after he and other GOP congressional chiefs ended their weekly legislative meeting with Eisenhower at the White House.

LONDON (AP) — A U. S. plan for halting the production of nuclear materials for weapons has received the support of Britain and France, but the Soviet Union still wants to know more about it.

British Delegate Allan Noble told the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee yesterday the American proposal was a "realistic and sound step" toward reversing the nuclear arms race. French Delegate Jules Moch also gave the plan his country's general support.

TOKYO (AP) — The U. S. Navy announced today it plans to start sending out more weather balloons from southern Japan next month. It hopes the Russians this time will realize that any which land in Siberia aren't spying on anything but the weather.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Will Build First Cement House:
D. S. Reynolds is making preparations to build a cement or concrete block house in Straban township, near the old Miller tanyard. It will be the first house of the kind to be erected in Adams county.

Joseph Galbraith, of this place, also expects to erect a house of the same material on West Middle street extended.

Local Miscellany: The W.M.R. Co. is erecting a large water tank at the "Y" near the G. and H. Engine house.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mertz is having a handsome picket fence built in front of her house on Chambersburg street.

Harry L. Snyder has had a new stable erected on the rear of his lot on Springs avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hartley gave a delightful party for their children one evening last week. There were about 35 children present.

Marriages: McSherry—Althoff — April 15, at Harrisburg, by the Rev. James McGrath, Samuel J. McSherry, Straban township, to Miss Bessie Althoff, of Harrisburg.

In the Social Circle: Maurice S. Weaver entertained fifteen members of the Sigma Chi fraternity at dinner at his home on Baltimore street, Wednesday evening, it being his 21st birthday.

George Wendehart, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wm. Wendehart, West Middle street, was given a surprise by a number of his friends and classmates Friday evening.

A double birthday surprise party was given Mrs. D. F. Kitzmiller and her little granddaughter, Helen Dougherty, at the home of the former, East Middle street, Friday evening. Their birthdays occur on the same date and quite a number of friends and relatives were present who enjoyed themselves in social conversation, games etc.

One of the most largely attended surprise parties given in Gettysburg for some time was that of Wednesday night when ninety-six friends and neighbors went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Gottwald on Hanover street. The party was given in Mr. Gottwald's honor and was a delightful affair.

New Uniforms: The Citizens band received their new uniforms Friday. They are indeed handsome and reflect credit upon the committee in making the selection of so neat and pretty a design. They were furnished by our local tailor, Calvin F. Solt.

Operating Cement Plant: On Monday Edward D. Weikert and Merville E. Stallsmith commenced the manufacture of cement blocks at their works, recently established on East Middle street. The machinery performs the work in excellent manner and the blocks are of excellent finish.

The cement house is growing in favor and we predict for these enterprising and hustling gentlemen a successful business.

Insurance Director 42 Years: At a meeting of the board of directors of the Adams county Mutual Fire Insurance company, held Tuesday, Hon. W. R. White, of Liberty township, who for over 42 years had been a director of the company, tendered his resignation on account of advanced years.

Harvey A. Scott, of Freedom township, was elected to Mr. White's place.

Personal: Prof. J. Louis Sowers has accepted the invitation to deliver the address at Fairfield Memorial day.

William D. Armor and son, Robert, spent the past five days in Baltimore and Wilmington, Delaware.

Mrs. Charles A. Timmins and son, William, Jersey City, are visiting Hon. and Mrs. W. H. Tipton.

J. Warren Gilbert, wife and daughters are occupying apartments in the Globe hotel.

Mrs. J. A. Tawney, and two daughters spent Monday in York.

Today's Talk

OTHERS ARE OUR SALVATION

Have you ever thought of all those on whom you depend for all that you have or enjoy? Look about you. Everything is the product of labor — somebody had a part in your comfort, happiness and success.

Governor Al Smith once said this: "Without the help of others, any one of us would die, naked and starved. Consider the bread upon our table, the clothes upon our backs, the luxuries that make life pleasant; how many men worked in sunlit fields, in dark mines, in the fierce heat of modern metal, and among the looms and wheels of countless factories, in order to create them for our use and enjoyment."

My precious books were once the trees of the forest, but men cut the timber, and this was sent to the mills, later to be converted into book, newspaper, magazine and other papers, for us all. And this is true of every article in our homes and offices. Indeed we are the big debtors to millions of other human beings.

I feel a kinship to every man or woman who gives his or her life and I'll make this the best possible of worlds in which to work and live. This little noiseless typewriter, on which all my daily talks are written, is from metal that once was a part of Mother Earth! I can't help but bless her for it.

The good Lord meant that every one of His created beings should be useful and happy. How can any of us help but be grateful to others — the others, with each one of us, who try to contribute something, worth while, even in a troubled world? Interests are everywhere. Each one is an interpreter to each one of us. We may be His universal godfather!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "YOU CAN AFFORD IT!"

LENTEN THOUGHT

Both flesh and spirit need a rest. As well the Master knew. He shunned earth's way for what was best.

And built His strength anew. He scorned temptation; turned away when offered wealth to own. "Man does not live," He dared to say, "Merely by bread alone."

"He can have wealth and poor remain. Have power and still be weak. Although the flesh may fortune gain.

There still is more to seek. The flesh must willingly obey. What'er the soul commands. For when the body goes astray Alone the spirit stands.

"The body must be fed to grow. With faith the spirit has to glow. While prayers are being said. The flesh is often commonplace. Against temptation weak. It needs the shining touch of grace.

The faithful kneel to seek."

THE REMAKING OF AN OUTCAST

By DANIEL POLING

Editor, Christian Herald Magazine
Eight years to the day after he was released from prison, I had lunch with Robert Brown. George Bolton was there; so was Frank Carlson.

All of us were actors in a modern drama illustrating one of the oldest principles of our religion: There's always hope, because there is grace.

What is grace? Let me tell you how Robert Brown found the answer to that question.

He was the son of a life-long friend of mine, and I watched his career through his papers.

I knew that he was a brilliant boy who would not study; that he quit college; worked as a lumberjack out West; came East, married, had three sons, and shot to an early $10,000-a-year success as a salesman in New York.

Began To Drink
He began drinking heavily in his business. He joined Alcoholics Anonymous. For a year and a half the battle seemed to go in his favor.

Then suddenly he had a severe defeat. One day Robert decided to try that famous "just one drink to see how I can handle it now." Within a month he was consuming two quarts of liquor a day. Within six months he was fired. Within a year he deserted his wife.

He gambled away a $36,000 inheritance. He began to "borrow" from his friends until he ran out of friends. Then he began to borrow from his father's friends and to pass bad checks.

One day in 1946, I had an urgent call requesting an interview.

Wanted Money
He had lost his job because of a change in management. He had just heard of an excellent position in China. Would I be in a position to advance $100 to get there?

"What's happened to you, Robert?" I asked.

"You bring me a fantastic yarn and you expect me to swallow it because I'm a minister with my head up in the clouds. Well I'll help you if you want it. But I won't give you a penny. I wrote an address on a piece of paper. 'If you want help go to this address.'"

It was the address of the Bowery Mission, one of the Christian Herald's projects.

"You go there," I said, "and see a man named George Bolton. He's traveled the same road you're on."

Food And A Bed

George Bolton, through long experience, knew that Robert's first need was the sobering influence of food and sleep.

So Robert was fed and was given a bed in the dormitory. Then in the morning he went to George Bolton's office.

Instinctively Robert knew George had, indeed, traveled the same road. There was little use putting up a front, so instead, somewhat to his surprise, Robert leveled with George Bolton. He tried for the first time, and unsuccessfully, to explain to George how he had gotten into such shape.

"It was just in the cards, I guess," Robert said.

George Bolton listened. After a while, he tried something:

"Have you ever heard of grace?" he asked.

"Grace? It sounds like one of those hollow religious words."

"Grace is unmerited mercy."

"Why are you telling me this?"

God Entered His Heart

"You've tried the rest, now try the best. Relax and ask for help from the grace of God."

God can enter a man's heart in a split second, in the mere twinkling of an eye. Although he didn't understand how it was to affect him, Christ came into Robert's life then and there — at George Bolton's desk in the Bowery.

Robert rose to his feet and shook George Bolton's hand and then walked out to the street and uptown to Penn Station. His first action, as a new man, must be to square accounts, to face the warrant for his arrest on a charge of non-support.

Robert was ordered by the judge to pay his wife $15 a week.

Immediately on his release he was arrested again for the bad checks he had passed months before. He was sentenced to six months in the county jail in Mineola, New York.

Worked In Kitchen

He worked silently, the fog of confusion and alcohol still clouding his brain. But a phrase kept beating through his mind: "You've tried the rest; now try the best."

One day while he plodded through his chores, he drew himself a cup of prison coffee. It was foul. He looked at the coffee urn. It was coated with a brown crust, from a thousand improper washings.

"This urn is just like me," he thought. "How can I turn out good coffee with tools like this? How can I straighten myself out with my own tools corroded? 'You've tried the rest; now try the best.' Maybe I'll give this urn some unmerited mercy. I'll clean it."

Hundreds Of Hours

During his six months in jail Robert spent literally hundreds of hours scouring the urn with steel wool and baking soda.

He identified himself completely with his job, and as he worked, he began quietly to pray as he had learned to do as a child. He asked that, by the grace of God, he might be cleaned too.

The day for his release arrived. Robert tried to get a job in New York. No one would take a chance on him. He telephoned the Bowery Mission.

"I want to see you," said George Bolton. "Right away."

When Robert arrived, Bolton introduced an old friend, Frank Carlson. Mr. Carlson and Robert talked for a long time and before the interview was over, Robert Brown, the crack $10,000-a-year salesman, had accepted a day-labor job, making $35 a week at Carlson's warehouse.

Immediately Robert began sending three-fourths of his pay home to his wife. She inquired after him, passed word along that she wanted to see him. Both agreed not to see each other too often at first.

"I want to make it my own way," said Robert.

TOMORROW — Chet Holcombe, California newspaperman, tells the touching story of the young Scottish sailor whose death on a lonely shore wrought a miracle of friendship.

HOLY NAME UNIT PICKS OFFICERS

John R. Rudisill Sr. was elected president of the Holy Name Society of St. Aloysius Catholic Church at the monthly meeting of the society which followed the Sunday evening service at the church. Others elected to office include: Vice president, Leo Riley; secretary, Conrad C. Hull; treasurer, Paul Bunty. The nominating committee comprised Stewart N. Long, Thomas French and Paul E. Altoff.

The session, conducted by President Rudisill, opened with prayer. Thomas French, chairman of the laymen's retreat committee, announced that there will be six week-end retreats, beginning July 20 and ending August 24 weekend. A method of raising funds for the benefit of St. Aloysius Athletic Fund was discussed. It was voted to have the parish-owned mimeograph machine repaired for future use for church and parish organization work. The president reported on the proceeds of the Saturday night public parties held in the parish hall, under the sponsorship of the Holy Name Society. The pastor, the Rev. Fr. William A. Boyle, spoke briefly regarding parish improvements.

The society voted to appoint eight members of the organization, each to serve as ushers at the Sunday masses. Until the next meeting the officers will serve as ushers at the early mass and the following for the second mass: Eugene Sentez, Gary Little, Ronald Oaster and James Hymiller. Members of the society will serve in the same capacity at the Holy Week services as follows: Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., Thomas Collins, Carroll Oaster, Jack Rudisill and Ronald Oaster; Thursday, 7:30 p.m., Conrad Hull, Leo Riley, John Rudisill and Paul Bunty; Friday, 7:30 p.m., Thomas French, Carroll Oaster, Merle Little and Z. W. Sanders; Saturday, 11 p.m., Jack Rudisill, Michael Collins, Thomas French and Z. W. Sanders.

The society presented Father Boyle with a monetary gift for his birthday and sang the birthday song. The organization will meet again on Sunday, May 12, following evening services.

Warriors Defeated 2-1 By Delone; Meet Hanover High Here Wednesday At 3:30

The Gettysburg High School Warriors baseball team (0-2) traveled to McSherrystown Monday afternoon to continue an old rivalry with the Delone Squires (2-2) and after a fine exhibition of baseball on the part of both teams, the Squires came out on top 3-1 as they scored twice in the bottom of the fourth.

Coch Howie Shoemaker started with Ken Cullison on the mound and Delone was held scoreless and were allowed only two hits in the first three innings of play. On the other hand Coach John Russ had Norm McKim tossing for the home team, who held the Warriors scoreless for three innings.

In the top of the fourth the ice was broken when the Warriors tallied once to take a 1-0 lead. Johnny King led off with a single and with two outs went down to second on a steal and came all the way home on a pair of costly Delone errors.

Delone Takes Lead
The Squires retaliated in the bottom of the fourth when they came with two runs to capture a 2-1 lead. Third baseman Jerry Shanabrook led off with a double to left center and was driven home on a single by Ed Roth, which turned out to be the only earned run of the game. George Thomassy followed with another safety to left and with the aid of two Gettysburg errors, Roth was able to romp home from second with the second tally.

With one out in the top of the fifth, Cullison lined a single to center, but the fire was soon put out when the next two men poked fly ball to center field.

A security run was added in the bottom of the fifth by the Squires when lead-off batter Frank Keffer took first via an outfield error. A single by McKim advanced the runner to third and Johnny Gastley's sacrifice fly to right field sent Keffer home with the final run.

Both teams were unable to get a threat started although the Warriors were able to put a runner on base in the sixth on Ronnie Harmon's single.

Harmon Gets Pair
Harmon was the big gun in the Gettysburg attack as he collected a pair of singles in three trips to the plate. Jerry Shanabrook and Norm McKim each belted out two hits, one of which was a double by Shanabrook.

Cullison struck out four men and did not allow a single free pass while his opponent, Norm McKim, struck out seven and walked two men as both pitchers teamed up to give the fans a close pitchers' duel all the way. Johnny McClellan came in to help out Cullison in the sixth frame.

Gettysburg meets Hanover here Wednesday at 3:30 in a South Penn League game.

Delone will be idle until April 25 when they will meet the Hanover Nighthawks on the Hanover diamond.

GOLF DAY JUNE 8
TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—National Golf Day will be held at the Inverness Club here on Saturday, June 8, the Professional Golfers' Assn. has announced. It will be the sixth annual event in which golfers throughout the country will put up $1 to match their score against that of Gary Middlecoff, 1956 National Open champion. In the past five years National Golf Day has resulted in a total of $542,750 being contributed to charity.

MISSES SECOND ACE
DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Tom Baird came within an eyelash of going golf's hole-in-one ranks one better. Baird sank his tee shot on the 128-yard seventh hole on the Lakewood golf course here.

Six holes later—on the 13th—his tee shot struck the flagstaff and bounced a foot away from the cup. The 13th at Lakewood is a 171-yarder.

FEW COMPLAIN ABOUT OPENING OF TROUT SEASON

HARRISBURG (AP)—There were few complaints today about the opening of Pennsylvania's trout season.

"The man who actually goes after trout did very well," was the way John Ogden, supervisory warden for the Fish Commission's southwest district, put it.

It was a chilly starter, however, and Gov. Leader, who complained that all he caught was "the beginning of a good cold," was no the state's only disappointed angler.

The turnouts at the state's streams and lakes ranged from about equal to a year ago to considerably greater depending on the extent of the chilly temperatures.

Cold Cut Crowd
Ogden, whose district warmed up by noon under clear skies and sunshine, reported a "bigger turnout than in former years." An Muddy Creek south of Red Lion and newly stocked this year. The stream drew a number of anglers interested in fishing new waters.

In the Meadville area in western Pennsylvania where stream temperatures ranged around 36 most of the day, the turnout was below normal.

Just the same, Walter Heffern and his son, James, came up with one of the day's best catches—the limit of eight apiece and five ranging 14-16 inches.

26-Inch Rainbow
In south-central Pennsylvania, warden superintendent Harold Corbin reported good fishing but poor crowds on the Big Spring. The stream was rehabilitated in March.

One of the big catches in the area was by Bill Kohler of Mechanicsburg, who caught a 26-inch rainbow trout in the Yellow Breeches using worm bait. The rainbow weighed 6 pounds and 9 ounces.

There were several reports of high waters, some cloudy.

Ralph Singer, northeast warden supervisor, reported "better streams in the northeast" with high but clear water and the catch good to excellent. Singer said the catch on the Shohola was "very good."

At Least 500,000
The Fish Commission estimated yesterday's opening turnout across the state at 500,000. This would be "safe, conservative," the commission said.

This will be the longest planned trout season in the state's history—141 days until Sept. 2.

The Fish Commission has stocked some 2,400,000 hatchery fish along 4,500 miles of streams. More than 700,000 resident fishing licenses have been issued.

The next significant date for anglers is May 17 when the season opens at Fishermen's Paradise in Centre County. The season there will run through July 20 with special time and equipment regulations in effect.

Mountaineer Trackmen Top Loyola 79-43; Bohlinger And Carroll In Top Form

Mt. St. Mary's remained unbeaten in dual track competition by crushing Loyola at Baltimore 79-43 Monday afternoon as Jerry Bohlinger scored 21 points to pace the Mountaineers.

Bohlinger took first places in the shot put, discus and high jump and finished second in the 120 and 220-yard hurdles, both of which were won by Carroll, a teammate. Carroll also tied for first place in the pole vault.

Other firsts for the Mount were taken by Boyle in the 440 dash and Conway in the broad jump.

BOLTS BOW 1-0 TO K-D "9" VIA WALKS IN 7TH
Littlestown High (2-3) lost a 1-0 decision to Kennard-Dale Monday afternoon at Fawn Grove as a base on balls with the bases loaded and one out in the last inning forced over the only run of the tight ball game. Kennard-Dale scored without benefit of a hit, three walks and a hit batsman turning the trick.

Glen Husson opened the last of the seventh with a walk and advanced to second base on a balk. Ken Freeze was hit by a pitched ball and both runners advanced on a wild pitch. The runners held their bases as Godfrey grounded out. Ron Trout walked to load the sacks and then Don Ebaugh walked to force home Husson.

Shomper and Gary Worley got the only Thunderbolt safeties, both of which were singles.

Today Littlestown plays at Bolling Springs as the Adams County League inaugurates its season. Other games are New Oxford at Biglerville, Fairfield at East Berlin, and Big Spring at York Springs.

Pays $1,265 Bill For A Shoshine
FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Prices are high in Alaska, but a guy normally doesn't hand over $1,265 for a shoshine.

Dale Webb did—and got the shine while standing in the snow at Fairbanks' busiest street intersection.

It all came about because of a new YMCA building.

Ed Hansen, his team captain, told Webb that if he reported next week with $1,000 pledged for the campaign, he'd get a shoe shine at the corner of Second and Cushman.

Webb came through with pledges for $1,265. Hansen paid off his end of the bargain the next day.

Meanwhile the Warrior baseball team (0-2) plays its first South Penn League game with unbeaten Hanover (4-0), defending league champs, on the Recreation Park diamond.

ROBIN ROBERTS FACES DODGERS IN FIRST GAME

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

It happens every spring. Robin Roberts will be making his eighth consecutive appearance as the Philadelphia Phillies' season-opening pitcher tonight against Brooklyn's defending National League champions.

The 30-year-old right-hander, who missed 20 victories last season (19-18) for the first time since his first full year in the majors in 1949, has a 4-3 record for the previous seasons.

The game at Connie Mack Stadium also will pair Robin with big Don Newcombe in a season opener for the third time. Newk's still trying to win an opener against Roberts.

Cleveland's Indians pulled a surprise by optioning Hank Aguirre and Bud Daley to their San Diego farm club in a last-minute move to trim their roster to the 28-player limit last night. It had been thought the two youngsters figured to hang around as additions to the Indians' youth movement behind veterans Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia.

The Tribe also sold outfielder Dave Pope to the Pacific Coast League club in the outcown. Elsewhere, Washington shipped shortstop Jose Valdivia to Indianapolis of the American Assn., and Kansas City sent catcher Bill Shantz (brother of Yankee pitcher Bobby Shantz) to Rochester of the International League. The Phillies optioned right-handed reliever Angelo Liperti to Miami of the International, while the New York Giants packed catcher Bob Schmidt off to Minneapolis of the AA and placed pitcher Ramon Monzant on the restricted list.

Injury also has knocked some veterans out of today's opening games. PeeWee Reese, sidelined by a bad back, will miss his first opener since becoming the Dodgers' regular shortstop in 1941. Outfielder Jackie Jensen of the Boston Red Sox didn't make the trip to Baltimore, staying behind for some tests on his ailing back. Southpaw Mel Parnell is on the Red Sox disabled list with a bum arm.

Man Who Executed Triple Play Dies
EAST ORANGE, N. J. (AP)—Ernest H. "Red" Padgett, who won major league baseball fame for an unassisted triple play in 1923, is dead at 58.

Padgett, who accomplished the triple play while playing for the Boston Braves against Philadelphia Oct. 6, 1927, died last night in East Orange Veterans Hospital. He was a second baseman.

Padgett played only three other games for Boston that season. He returned in 1924 and was a regular player through 1925. Boston then traded him to the Cleveland Indians for whom he played two seasons.

He was a resident of Philadelphia and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Norma Seme of Breton Woods, N.J.

Major League Baseball Gets Going On All Fronts Today; Orioles Beat Senators 7-6

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

The sparring over, the champion New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers settled down to the serious business of defending their laurels as the 1956 major league baseball season opened on all fronts today.

Weather permitting, all 16 teams, including Baltimore and Washington, which staged a sneak preview yesterday in a traditional opener in the nation's capital, were to see action. One game will be played at night, between the Dodgers and Phillies in Philadelphia.

The Orioles, who hadn't won an opener since they re-entered the American League in 1954, defeated the Senators 7-6 in 11 innings.

Hero Was Triandos
Rookie outfielder Carl Powis drove in the winning run with a sacrifice fly but the big Baltimore hero was veteran catcher Gus Triandos.

He singled in two runs in the fifth inning, shot his team ahead 6-5 with a two-run homer in the seventh, and added a double after Powis had scored Dick Williams with his game-winning fly.

Billy Loes, last of four Baltimore pitchers, was credited with the victory. The defeat was charged to Camilo Pascual, who relieved starter Bob Chakales in the eighth. Hector Brown, Baltimore's starter, was routed by a five-run Washington attack in the fourth.

President There
President Eisenhower looked on two pitches toward a mass of Baltimore and Washington players in the traditional pregame ceremonies.

The Orioles meet the Boston Red Sox in Baltimore today. Left-hander Bill Wright (9-12) was Manager Paul Richards' nomination to hurl against Tom Brewer (19-9).

The Senators are guests of the New York Yankees at Yankee Stadium, where southpaw Chuck Stobbs (15-15) had the unenviable task of trying to stop Mickey Mantle and company. Whitey Ford (19-6) was the choice for New York.

Using Top Talent
A pair of 20-game winners, Billy Pierce of Chicago and Herb Score of Cleveland are slated for the mount as the Indians play host to the White Sox.

Detroit sends its ace Frank Lary (21-13) against Tom Morgan at Kansas City.

The National League spotlight will be focused on Philadelphia where Brooklyn's Don Newcombe (27-7) and Robin Roberts (19-18) hook up in another of their many duels.

Pirates Face Giants
Milwaukee, favored to dethrone the Dodgers, opens with the Cubs in Chicago and leads off with its ace, Warren Spahn (20-11), opposed by Bob Rush (13-10).

The Cincinnati Redlegs take on the St. Louis Cardinals. Johnny Kippstein (12-11) is slated to take the mound against Herman Wehmeier (12-11).

The Pirates face a tartar in Johnny Antonelli as they oppose the New York Giants in Pittsburgh. Bob Friend (17-17) pitches for Pittsburgh.

ELECT TIPPIN PRESIDENT OF COLLEGE GROUP
HARRISBURG (AP)—The Athletic Conference of Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges yesterday elected Waldo S. Tippin, athletic director at Clarion State Teachers, president.

Tippin, who succeeds George F. Miller of Indiana State Teachers, was named at the conference's semiannual meeting. Miller had been president since the organization's founding in 1951.

Other officers named were Eugene Hester, California, vice president; John Roddick, Shippensburg, secretary-treasurer.

Drop Golf Tourney
Athletic officials of 14 state teachers colleges discussed adoption of a rotating basketball schedule, to become effective in the 1959-60 season. The schedule's fall meeting in Harrisburg. The organization also voted not to hold a state teachers college golf tournament this year because of scheduling difficulty.

In other action the group voted to:

Rotating Grid Schedule
Hold its annual wrestling tournament next February at Lock Haven State Teachers College.

Add a mile relay to the annual track and field meet May 4 at West Chester.

Adopt a rotating football schedule to become effective in the 1958 season.

POPE WILL KEEP TRYING TO OUST NUCLEAR GUNS

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII says he will keep trying to get nuclear weapons outlawed. He looks to the United Nations to achieve this.

The Pope said this on Sunday at a private audience, unusual for him. He was with Dr. Masatoshi Matsuoka, special Japanese envoy touring Europe to agitate for an end to tests of nuclear weapons. Matsuoka said he was "very much pleased" with the pontiff's attitude.

Vatican sources, confirming the envoy's version of the Pope's remarks, hinted the Pope may refer to nuclear weapons again in his Easter message next Sunday.

Will Test H-Bomb
Representing Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi, Matsuoka came to Italy from London after Prime Minister Macmillan's government again declined to call off the forthcoming British H-bomb tests at Christmas Island in the Pacific.

Members of Britain's opposition Labor party have demanded postponement of the tests, but the government expects Parliament to approve its stand after a defense debate this week.

The Pope gave Matsuoka a copy of his 1956 Christmas address in which he said:

"Only in the ambit of an institution like the United Nations can promises of nations to reduce armament, especially to abandon production and use of certain arms, be mutually exchanged under the strict obligation of interdicted aerial inspection to enforce disarmament pledges."

The Pope in his 1955 Christmas message called for the "renunciation of experimentation with atomic weapons, renunciation of the use of such, and general control

Girl Is Sold Three Times In 6 Months

CALCUTTA (AP)—A village's daughter in Tegra, in northeast India, says she was sold three times in six months before escaping from her last buyer and returning home.

Calcutta newspapers Monday said this was the girl's story: She was tubercular and her father too poor to pay for medical treatment. A relative took her to Patna, the state capital, promising to pay for her treatment.

In Patna the relative sold her for 400 rupees ($80). She was resold for 1,000 rupees ($200) and again for 2,200 rupees ($440).

The girl said she fled one night from the home of her third purchaser and took refuge with Hindu priests in a neighboring village.

SANTA FE SPRINGS, Calif.—When their car stalled at a railroad crossing, Jigs Biggs and his wife Edith tried to push it off the tracks.

A San Diego-bound streamliner bore down on them. They started to run.

The train slammed into the car, sending debris flying. Sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Biggs, 33, was apparently hit by the car's engine, which was hurled 100 feet. She was killed.

Biggs was unhurt.

HONG KONG (AP)—Soviet President Klement Voroshilov arrived in Peking in a Russian jet airliner today for a 20-day state visit. Chairman of the Republic Mao Tse-tung, Premier Chou En-lai and other government leaders greeted him. From China Voroshilov will go to Indonesia to visit President Sukarno.

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Reports reaching Tehran Monday said Baharain gunboats attacked four motor launches carrying smuggled goods across the Persian Gulf Saturday and that 120 persons drowned as a result.

The reports said the launches were carrying smuggled goods from Abadan, Iran, to Kuwait, on the northwest shore of the Persian Gulf.

of armaments." Matsuoka talked with U. S. Judge Green H. Hackworth, president of the World Court at The Hague, on his way from London to Rome. They discussed the nuclear tests.

The Japanese envoy plans to fly to Washington to confer with President Eisenhower. He said another Japanese mission soon will go to Russia, which has set off a series of nuclear explosions this month.

Moscow radio said Sunday that the West is developing "atomic fever... assuming the form of something like hysteria."

AIRCRAFTS DO MOST BUSINESS WITH UNCLE SAM

WASHINGTON (AP)—Makers of missiles, aircraft and their power plants still do the biggest military business with the government.

A list of the 100 largest defense contractors for the 18 months ending last June 30 was published Monday by the Defense Department, which has put out such compilations at irregular intervals since July 1950.

Heading the list for the entire six-year period is General Motors Corp., but the big automotive concern dropped to No. 14 in the tabulation for the 18 months ending last June—in the 18-month period, GM received or held military contracts with a net value of $26 million dollars, or a little more than 2 per cent of the total defense contracts awarded in that time.

North American Leads
The leading company on the new 18-month list was North American Aviation, Inc. It was followed closely by General Dynamics Corp., which builds planes, submarines and missiles. The two leaders each accounted for 5.2 per cent of the $25,637,000,000 total of defense contracts during the 18 months.

No. 3 was United Aircraft, with 5 per cent of the dollar value of contracts. General Electric, makers of jet engines and a wide variety of electronic devices, ranked fourth with 4.1 per cent. The Boeing Airplane Co., builders of the giant all-jet B52 bombers placed fifth with 4 per cent.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and its subsidiaries ranked sixth with 2.9 per cent and the Ford Motor Co., which builds jet engines and other non-automotive military equipment, seventh with 2.7 per cent.

Lockheed Aircraft Corp. was eighth with 2.6 per cent, Douglas Aircraft Co., ninth with 2.3 per cent and the McDonnell Aircraft Corp. 10th with 2 per cent.

The 100 largest contractors in the 18-month period accounted for 68.7 per cent of total military contracts.

During the entire six-year period starting in July 1950, the 100 biggest contractors received 63 per cent of the total. The Defense Department said that the rise in the proportion of military business awarded to a smaller number of firms resulted from the complexity of modern weapons systems. These make it more practicable for prime contractors to be awarded to a single company although that company usually has to subcontract much of the work to many other firms, the department said.

Alert Detectives, Strange Walk Of Girl Solve Bank Holdup With Aid Of Camera

CLEVELAND (AP)—The startling solution to a bank holdup, in which a movie camera made its debut as an arm of the police, has been making headlines here, but in the background are two old-fashioned detectives who noticed a red-haired girl in a restaurant.

The detectives, William Steele and Joseph David, admired the "walk" of a girl in a restaurant three hours before the St. Clair Savings & Loan Co. was robbed of $2,376 Friday noon.

At 4:30 p. m. Friday the two were among a group who saw the two-minute film from a hidden movie camera at the bank. A bank clerk had pushed a button that started the camera and signaled Central Police Station. In the picture they saw a gunman with the lower part of his face masked, and they saw a girl who walked confidently to a cash drawer.

Walk Was Familiar
The picture was blurred, apparently by vibration near the camera, but the girl's walk looked familiar. The detectives went

CLAIMS MANY SUPPORT SLASH

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said Monday he has received a "tremendously favorable" public response to his demand that Congress slash what he criticized as President Eisenhower's "incredible" spending budget.

The reaction to Goldwater's criticism of Eisenhower in a Senate speech last week is being watched closely by Democrats as well as Republicans. As a possible indicator of the trend of Eisenhower's popularity, these returns could egg along bolder political attacks on the President.

Goldwater, former chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said in an interview he has not received a single letter disagreeing with his criticisms of Eisenhower. He said his office is "swamped" with mail from all over the country, from "intelligent citizens, not crackpots," urging, he said, "Go to it. We're behind you."

Budget-cutting talk continued to echo elsewhere in the capital too, with Senators Byrd (D-Va.) and Bridges (R-NH) predicting the Senate will sustain a "major share" of the more than a billion dollars of cuts made by the House in budget requests.

THIS IS "BE GOOD TO OAK TREES" MONTH IN PENNA.

Fishermen, lumbermen, farmers and others using woodland areas in the southern half of Pennsylvania were urged today to prevent breaking the bark or otherwise injuring any oak trees during the next six weeks.

A tiny wound that causes sap to run may result in killing the entire tree from a disease fungus known as oak wilt, explained Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, director of the Bureau of Plant Industry, the state Department of Agriculture.

He cited evidence to show that nearly all varieties of oak trees with open wounds are subject to visitation by insects carrying oak wilt spores after they have fed on fungus growths of a diseased tree. The critical period is from April 15 through May, the state entomologist declared. This is the time that growth of twigs and unfolding of leaves is underway.

To Make Aerial Surveys
Since oak wilt was first discovered in Pennsylvania in 1950, careful studies have been made on the possible methods of spread to widely scattered areas. In a row of 19 oaks that had been blazed with an axe in Bedford County, 17 died of oak wilt in 1952. Since that time it is estimated that as many as 50 per cent of the hundreds of diseased trees found and destroyed by the department each year were killed through injury to the tree followed by contamination from insect vectors.

Dr. Guyton's caution against oak tree injury is directed especially to people engaged in lumbering, tree trimming, power line trimming, road and other construction, and springtime visitors to wooded areas, including fishermen.

The state Department of Agriculture will start airplane surveys to locate infected trees as soon as the foliage is advanced to show discoloration caused by oak wilt. This will be some time in June and trained observers will cover the state by the time trees naturally change color in the fall.

Oak wilt has never been east of the Susquehanna River. Since 1950 more than 2300 spots of oak wilt infection have been located and the trees destroyed to prevent spread. Heavily areas of infection are in south central Pennsylvania counties, mostly in mountain areas west of Franklin County to Somerset and north to Centre County. Last year 398 spots were located and eradicated compared with 660 in 1955.

Neighbor: Say, your new Olds sure looks like a lot of car!

Olds Owner: That's nothing, wait'll you take a ride.

(A few minutes later...)

Neighbor: Man-oh-man, where'd all that power come from? I've never felt anything like that before!

Olds Owner: That's Oldsmobile's new J-2 Rocket Engine!

Neighbor: What's that? Tell me how it works.

Olds Owner: When you're driving under ordinary conditions, it uses only one carburetor. That means economy with a capital E. But when you need a sudden burst of power, for safety's sake, you just press the accelerator three-quarters of the way down—and two additional carburetors cut in!

Neighbor: In other words, with J-2, you can have economy when you want it and power when you need it. That's for me!

Olds Owner: Better see your Olds dealer. He's expecting you!

19 DEPRESSED AREAS RESCUED BY OWN EFFORTS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Chamber of Commerce said Monday 19 areas, previously plagued by unemployment, have lifted themselves by their own bootstraps.

Their successful efforts, without federal help, demonstrate that a special federal aid program for depressed areas is unnecessary, the chamber contended in testimony prepared for a Senate Banking subcommittee considering such legislation.

Spokesman for the chamber was Robert P. Lee, chairman of the Connecticut Development Commission.

Lee said there now are no major areas with unemployment equalling 12 per cent of the work force.

175,000 Idle Minus

However, Thomas Kennedy, vice president of the United Mine Workers, voiced support for the depressed areas legislation, terming it "a step in the right direction."

In prepared testimony, Kennedy said there are 175,000 unemployed coal miners, most of them in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Illinois.

The UMW official proposed unlimited unemployment compensation benefits for persons who are jobless through no fault of their own. And he urged quota restrictions on imports of residual oil, a federal coal research program and formulation of a national fuels policy.

That chamber spokesman listed these 16 areas which he said have recovered "by their own efforts":

Anniston and Florence-Shield, Ala.; New Bedford, Mass.; Excanaba and Marquette, Mich.; Amsterdam and Utica-Rome, N.Y.; Erie, Indiana, Kittanning-Ford City and Philadelphia, Pa.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Burlington, Vt.; Covington-Clifton Forge, Va.; Bluefield, W. Va., and Huntington, W. Va.-Ashland, Ky.

In addition, Lee said Lawrence,

South Koreans Erase Guerrillas

SEOUL (AP) — National police claimed Monday that for the first time since the Korean War ended more than 3½ years ago, Communist guerrillas have been wiped out in South Korea.

The police said they arrested the last two guerrillas last month on Cheju Island, off the southwestern tip of the peninsula.

The pair, Oh Wun Kwun, 41, and his 22-year-old woman companion, Han Soon Ae, were brought to police headquarters in Seoul this week for questioning.

Police Director Suh Chung Hak said the once-large Communist guerrilla force now is completely out of existence.

Both Oh and the woman claimed they had been held against their will by a guerrilla chief recently shot to death. Police said no action would be taken against them and they would be allowed to return to their families on Cheju.

Admits Murder Of Grandmother

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — Merle C. Bassett, assistant state's attorney, said 15-year-old Charles Edward McFarlane signed a statement admitting he killed his grandmother with a butcher knife after she scolded him.

The victim was Mrs. Velma McFarlane, 51.

Authorities charged the grandson with first-degree murder. Bassett said young McFarlane related his grandmother upbraided him for the way he fired their coal furnace. He went to bed, woke up about 3 a.m. on Sunday, got the butcher knife and went to her bedroom.

Authorities said the boy had lived most of his life with his grandmother, his parents being divorced. He already was under the jurisdiction of the juvenile probation office.

BIGNESS POSES PROBLEMS FOR SOME UNIONS

By NORMAN WALKER
AP Labor Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Are big unions going out of style, getting too large to serve their vast membership effectively?

The problem is suggested by recent events involving the nation's two largest labor unions — the Teamsters and the Auto Workers, each claiming 1½ million members.

These events, while based on far different circumstances, demonstrate that size can also become a handicap among labor organizations.

The United Auto Workers acted at the union's Atlantic City, N.J., convention last week to give a more active voice in bargaining power to the UAW's skilled workmen. It's a step toward departmentalizing the huge auto union.

Same Ailment

The Teamsters, on the other hand, are feeling the pangs of bigness on another score — their handling of vast accumulations of union money has come under sharp criticism.

Both the UAW and Teamsters situations seem to grow out of the same ailment — that a union can grow so big it may not always operate along the lines of the members' own best interests.

The UAW problem with the auto industry's skilled workers stemmed from the union's three-year labor contract, negotiated in 1955 and featuring the new supplemental unemployment benefit plan to help jobless workers.

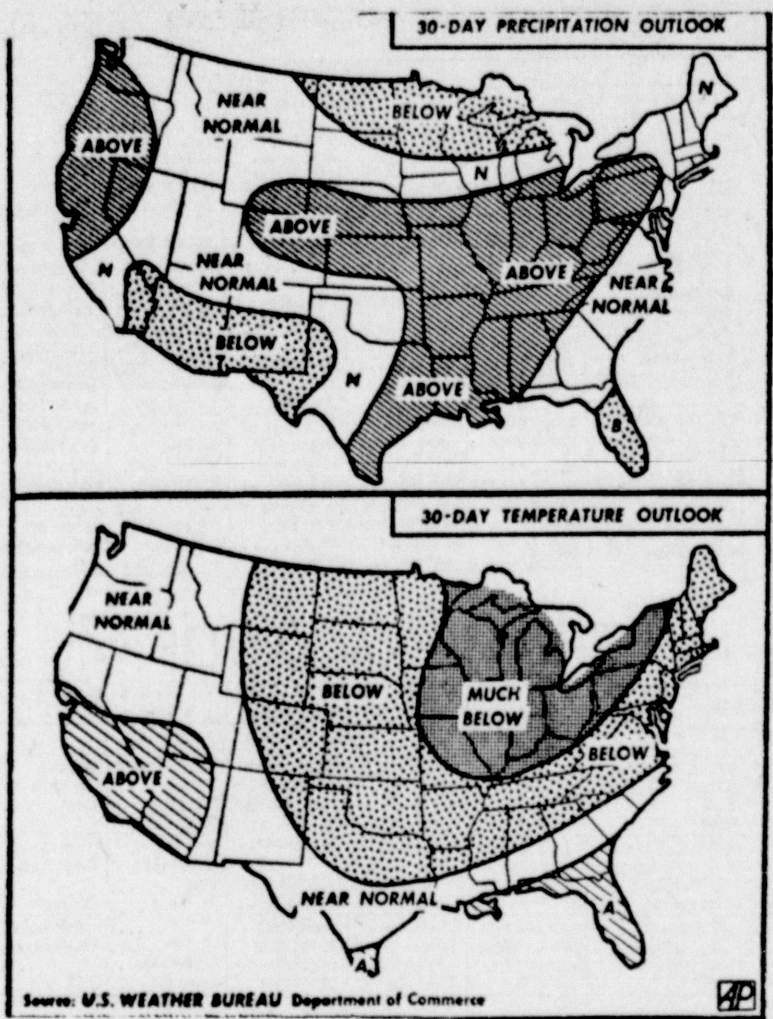

Provided Pay Boosts

That contract also provided pay boosts, but the skilled workers felt they deserved even higher wage increases, particularly since as older workers their chances of losing jobs were relatively slim under seniority rules.

The UAW convention last week voted to let skilled workers bargain their own extra terms henceforth, separate from those of the regular production workers.

This, in effect, set up a union within a union.

Doctors removed the arrow's tip Sunday night in an hourlong emergency operation.

Foresee Day When Glass And Rubber Hearts Will Be Used

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

AP Science Editor

CHICAGO (AP) — A scientist foresees the day when you might have a little substitute glass-and-rubber heart placed permanently inside your chest.

It would replace your own sick heart which threatened death.

Or you might get a substitute kidney, sewed inside your abdomen, to rescue failing kidneys.

These substitute organs might have to be plugged into an electric socket to work. But they would keep you alive.

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Ceylonese police reported Monday 14 persons were murdered during Sinhalese New Year celebrations on this island Saturday and Sunday.

One official attributed the killings—most of them by gunfire—to liquor and a heat wave which is "making the people highly irritable."

The Sinhalese, descendant of Ceylon's ancient kings, make up about five-eighths of the island's population of eight million.

Pricking a pastry shell well with a fork on the bottom and sides, before baking, helps to keep the crust flat.

Research on such projects is beginning, and the general principles make them look feasible, says Dr. Peter F. Salisbury of Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, Los Angeles.

He took this look ahead in taking office Sunday night as president of the American Society for Artificial Internal Organs, a three-year-old society of some 100 scientists and doctors. It is a member society of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology, holding its 41st annual meeting in Chicago this week.

Dr. Salisbury said some prototypes of first rough working models of permanent substitute hearts and kidneys are being designed.

Bold New Prospect

Hundreds of human lives have already been saved by artificial heart-lung and kidney machines. But they are pretty big, and the patient is connected to them only temporarily.

The bold new prospect is of small devices permanently put inside the human body.

Dr. Salisbury said it would be easier to remove the ailing heart, completely replacing it with the substitute, than to try to find room inside the chest for an auxiliary pump.

NEW JERSEY GOP MAKING CHOICE FOR GOVERNOR

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — New Jersey Republicans pick their gubernatorial candidate today.

The choice: Atty. Wayne Dumont Jr. of Phillipsburg or Publisher Malcolm S. Forbes of Bedminster.

Despite their relative youth — Dumont is 42 and Forbes 37 — both men are veteran members of the State Senate. Their legislative voting records are similar. Both served with the Army in World War II.

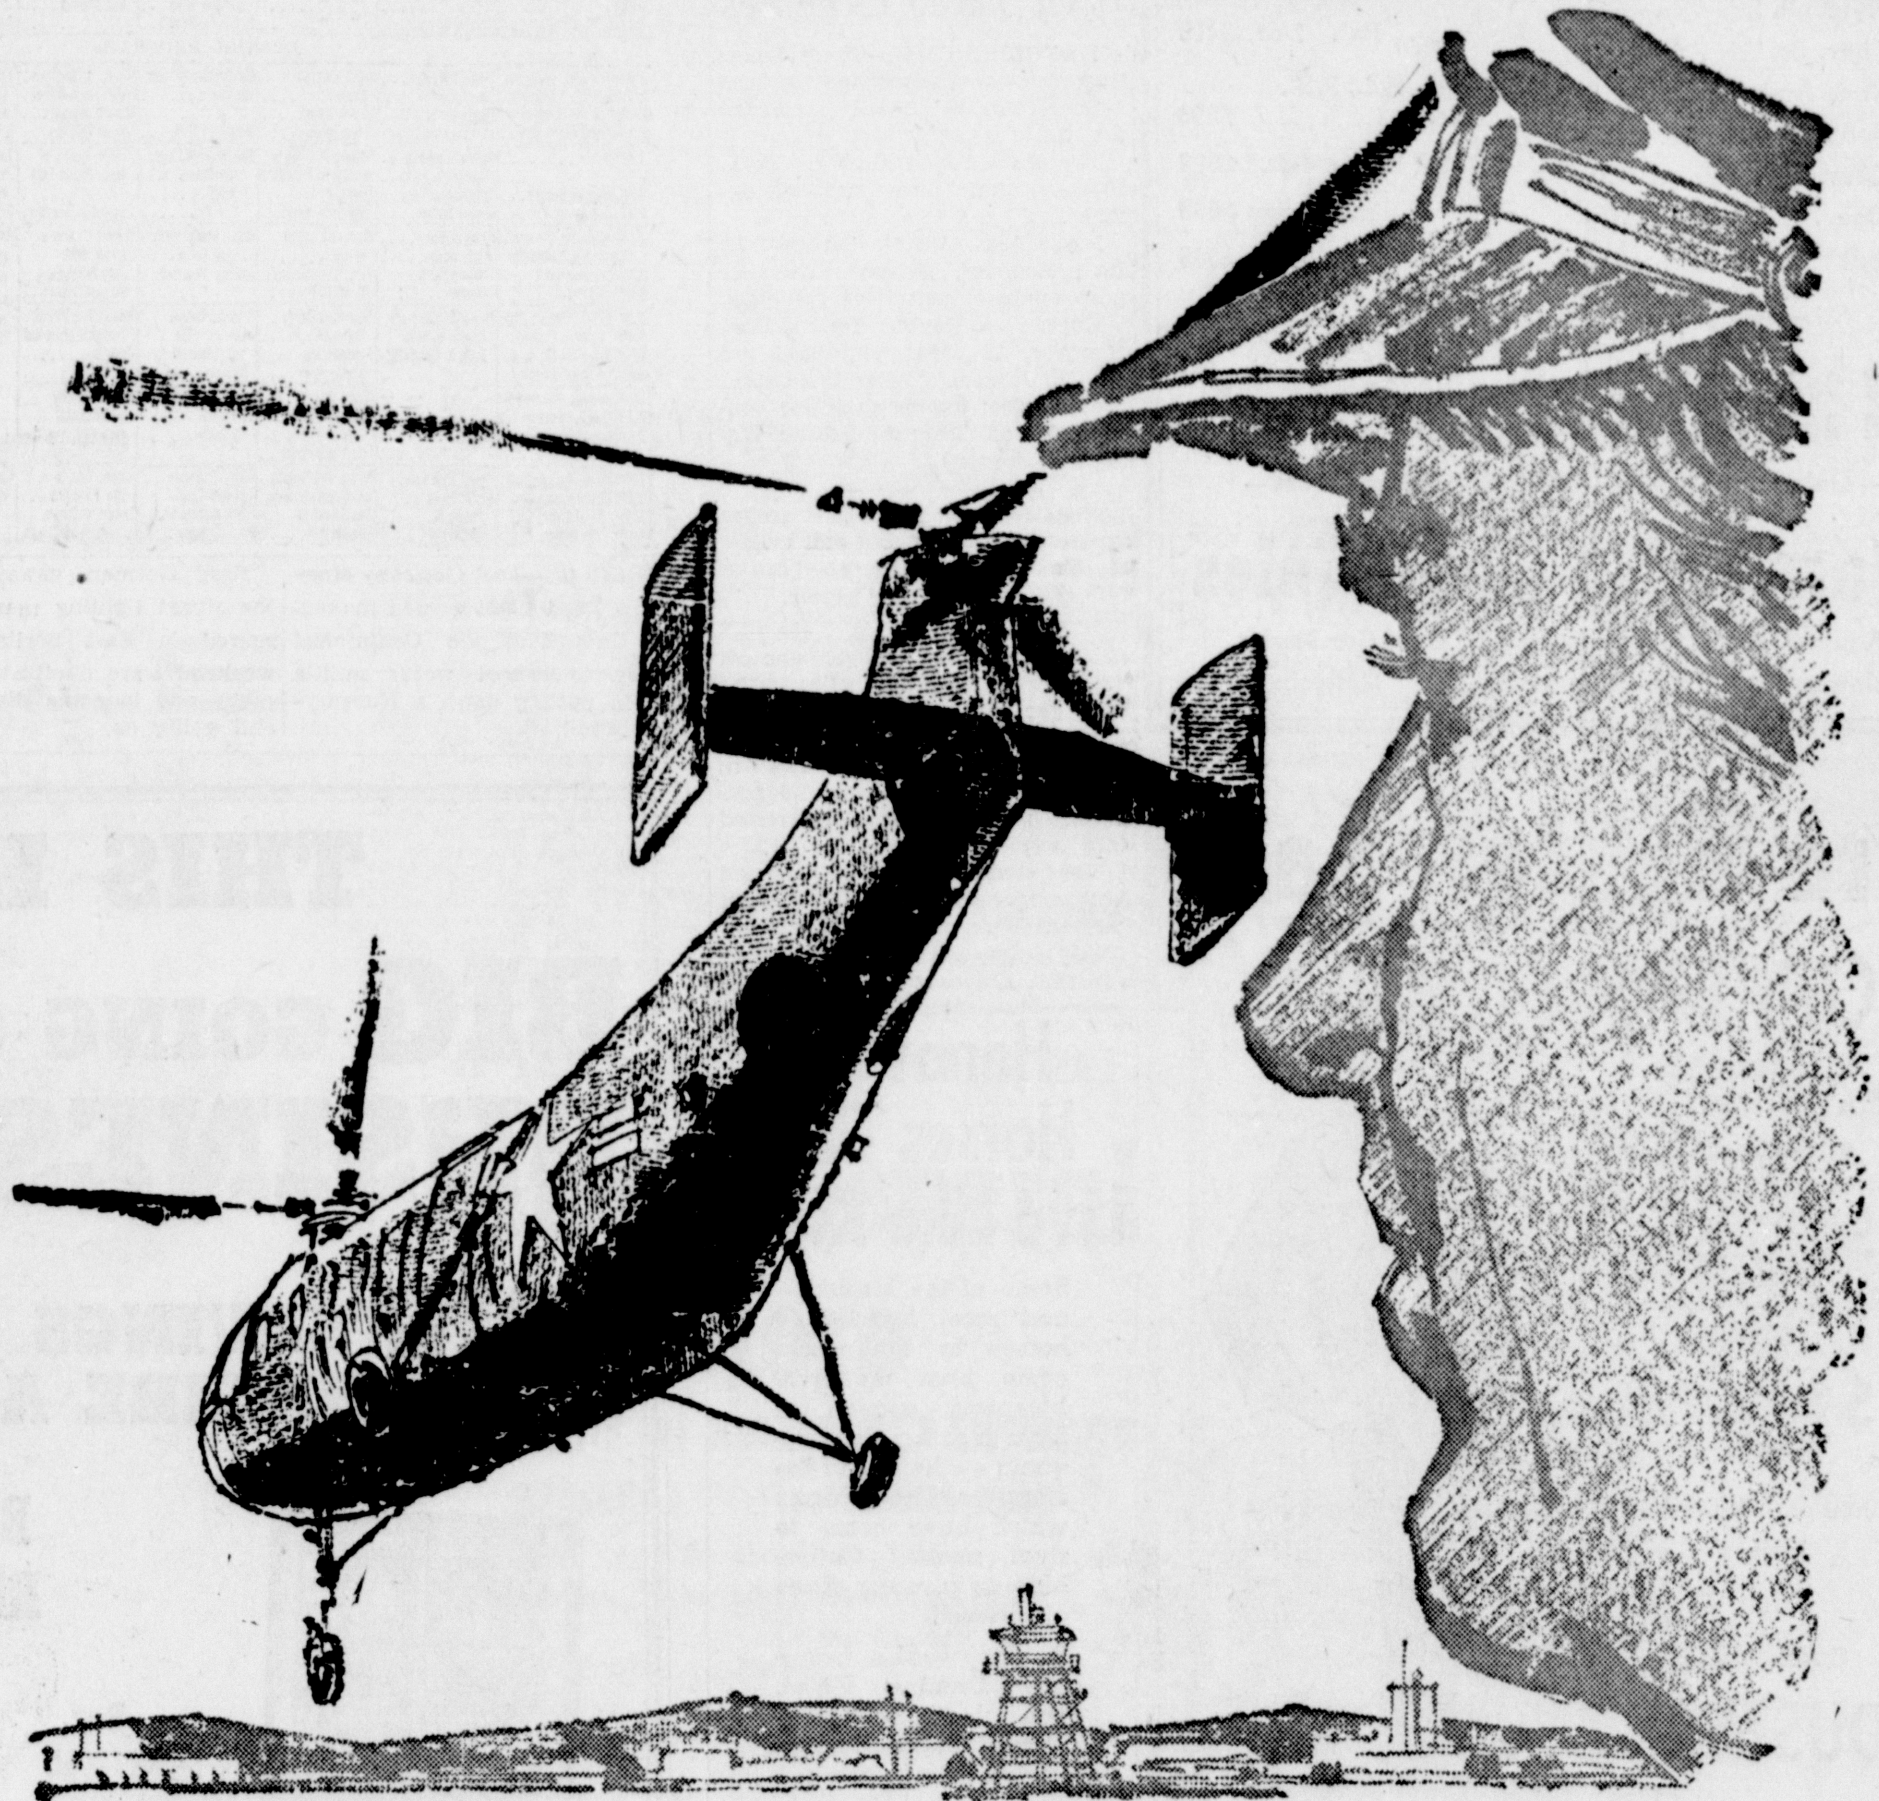

Their basic campaigning methods come from the same school and are geared for their rural counties — handshaking, man-to-man "I'd appreciate your vote" approach, and meetings with small groups.

Meyner Unopposed

But in this primary campaign they made necessary adjustments: Forbes, backed by the Republican party organizations and anxious to avoid any intraparty rifts, simply ignored his opponent and concentrated on November — and Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner.

Dumont, whose party support is limited to several small counties, sought to convince the electorate that he was the logical man to take on Meyner since he had beaten Meyner for state senator in Warren County and understood the governor's weak points.

Meyner is unopposed for the nomination.

How Texas Eastern helps put the "whirl" in a whirlybird

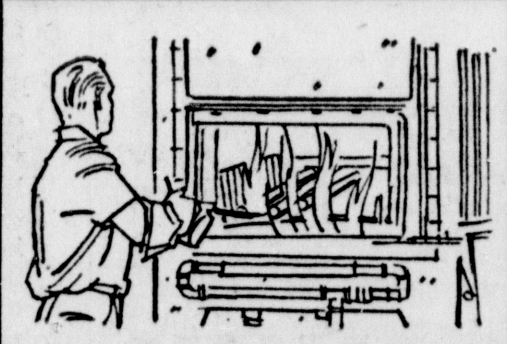

Metal helicopter parts—bearings, blades, detail parts—undergo terrific strains in flight. So they must be heat-treated with great exactness to make sure they are properly stress relieved, hardened and tempered.

Vertol Aircraft Corporation, maker of "whirlybirds" for Army, Air Force and Navy, uses gas-fired furnaces for these important heat-treating operations and for cleaning and plating, too. Gas is ideal for all these jobs because it is dependable, fast and can be easily and accurately controlled.

To make gas abundantly available in Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern areas, Texas Eastern transports natural gas from the Southwest through its 5700-mile pipeline system.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals will be received by Gettysburg Aerie No. 1662, Fraternal Order of Eagles, at the Eagles' Home, 125-27 Chambersburg Street, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, until 1:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, Wednesday, May 1, 1957, for furnishing all necessary labor, materials and equipment and performing all work for the construction of alterations and improvements at the Eagles' Home building at said address in accordance with Drawing C-213-A, Sheet 1, and specifications of Gettysburg Engineering & Equipment Company for such alterations and improvements. Said proposals will be publicly opened and read immediately thereafter.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check or bid when in the amount of ten per cent of the price bid as guarantee that the bidder, if awarded the contract, will enter into a contract with said Aerie for the performance of the work, will furnish satisfactory performance and labor and material payment bonds in the amount of the bid price, will provide certificates of Workmen's Compensation and public liability insurance and will execute and file of record an approved certificate against liens.

The proposal must contain a statement as to when the work will be started and when the work will be completed and the contract will be void if the bidder fails to begin the work within the time specified in the proposal. Copies of said drawing and specifications may be obtained at the office of Gettysburg Engineering & Equipment Company, 123 Springs Avenue, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, and prospective bidders may have opportunity for inspecting the Eagles' Home building at said reasonable times. The Aerie reserves the right to reject any and all proposals.

Gettysburg Aerie No. 1662
Fraternal Order of Eagles
By John E. Storm, Secretary

Sealed proposals will be received and publicly opened and read by the Supervisors of Franklin Township, Adams County, at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, until 10 o'clock A.M. April 15, 1957, for the following:

1,000 Tons, more or less, F.B.-1, in place by motor conveyor.

Proposal forms, Specifications, Form of Contract and Instructions to Bidders may be obtained at the home of, or by writing to Frank E. Miller, Secretary, Board of Supervisors, Gettysburg R. 3, Pennsylvania.

The material specified herein shall meet the Standard Specifications of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways.

The successful bidder will be awarded the contract, shall furnish a bond with suitable, reasonable requirements, guaranteed performance of the contract or (delivery to be made) with sufficient surety in the amount of 50 per centum of the amount of the contract.

All proposals must be upon the form furnished by the undersigned.

The supervisors reserve the right to reject any or all proposals.

FRANK E. MILLER
Secretary of Board

REQUEST FOR BIDS
Sealed bids for the paving of Penn and High Streets between West Hanover Street and West York Street will be received by Biglerville Borough Council at the home of the Secretary, Earl E. Eckert, East York Street, Biglerville, Pennsylvania, on or before Tuesday, May 14, 1957, with same to be opened and read at the meeting of the council at 8:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Daylight Time, on the above date.

The main items of work shall include grading, placing six-inch stone base with a C.P. surface.

Specifications or any additional information may be secured from the chairman of the Highway Committee, F. W. Weigle, East York Street, Biglerville, Penna.

The Biglerville Borough Council reserves the right to waive any informality in or to reject any or all bids.

where they believe Christ was baptized. In the early centuries of the Christian era the site was marked by a cross standing in the river bed.

Although followers of Christ adopted baptism as a ritual for admission to the faith the baptism by John also has been interpreted as a cleansing ritual. For centuries afterward Christians who already had been baptized would visit the site of the sacred baptism for ceremonial washing. On the eve of the Epiphany, thousands used to collect on the river banks, wrapped in white garments, and bathe in the waters. Lepers and other afflicted persons washed in the river to be cured.

Vast Irrigation Scheme
Modern economic planning may affect the site of the sacred baptism in the next few years. A vast irrigation scheme for the Jordan Valley calls for diverting the waters of the Jordan's main tributary, the Yarmuk, into irrigation canals. This probably will lower the level of the narrow Jordan below the baptismal site.

Religious leaders here have tried to remind world opinion that this scheme, important as it is economically, may destroy one of Christendom's most sacred sites by leaving the place of Christ's baptism a dry spot on the bank.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—Silence has suddenly descended over the name and memory of E. Herbert Norman, the Canadian ambassador to Egypt who killed himself after he was named as a Communist in a Senate subcommittee hearing.

But the confusion continues. It still has not been clearly established: (1) that he was a Communist; (2) that he killed himself as a result of publication of the hearings, although the events followed close by; or (3) that the full contents of his suicide notes have been made public.

Canada's foreign secretary, Lester B. Pearson, has been less than completely frank. At first he said the hearings were reviving old rumors. Later he said that Norman in his youth had "Communist associations." But he refused to answer when twice asked in the Canadian Parliament if Norman had been a Communist.

Clumsy Spectacle
Meanwhile, the State Department and the Internal Security subcommittee, each trying to blame the other for releasing the information on Norman, presented a clumsy spectacle to Canadians already bitter about Norman's death.

The subcommittee never has explained why it handled as it did information dealing with a foreign diplomat.

The State Department, in trying to disown any responsibility for release of the hearing testimony, has been less than convincing.

Produced "Records"
On March 12 John K. Emmerson, a State Department career diplomat, was called before the subcommittee to testify. Robert Morris, counsel for the subcommittee, gave this writer a double reason for calling Emmerson: To ask him about his associations with Chinese Communists during the war and later in the Middle East with Norman who, Morris said, "is listed in our records as a Communist."

Emmerson first mentioned Norman's name. But that Morris was already to take out after Norman was shown by the fact that he very quickly called him a Communist and produced what he said were records to bear out the statement.

Bitter Reaction
On March 14 the record was made public. There was an immediate and bitter Canadian reaction. Since this could have been anticipated as damaging American-Canadian relations, why was the record made public?

When the Canadian reaction set in, the State Department quickly said allegations about Norman's communism "do not represent the opinions of this government." And it added: "The investigation being undertaken by the committee lies entirely within the control of the committee."

True, it couldn't control the investigation. But what it didn't say was that—as events showed—it might have prevented release of the hearing record.
